Thurſday, November 4. 1708.

Rome, October, 20.

THE 15th Inſtant Don Aleſſandro Albani, the Pope's Nephew, ſet out from hence for Faenza, to put himſelf at the Head of his Regiment. He was accompany'd by Captain Origi, in whoſe Room M. Seclupi is appointed Commandant of the Caſtle of St. Angelo. This Week ſeveral Congregations for military Affairs have been held; but tho' the Preparations for War are continu'd, this Court diſcover a Diſpoſition to Peace, and ſeem to long for the Arrival of the Marquis de Prie and to hear his Propoſitions: So that we flatter our ſelves with Hopes of an Accommodation, the more becauſe the Pope took in very good Part t'other Day the Counſel given him by the Cardinals Mareſcotti, Negroni, Acciajoli, and divers other Prelates who are eſteem'd well meaning and diſintereſted Perſons, to forbear engaging himſelf in a chargeable and unprofitable War. In the Mean time the Cardinal de la Tremouille has newly had a long Audience of his Holyneſs; and the Marſhal de Theſſe having notified to the Sacred College his Arrival here as Ambaſſador extraordinary from the King of France, was this Day conducted by the ſaid Cardinal to his firſt private Audience of the Pope. In Order to the ſpeedier furniſhing our Troops with Arms, all Gunſmiths within the Pope's Territories are forbidden under ſevere Penalties to do any other Work than for his Holineſs's Service: And the Cardinal Legate of Bologna has obtain'd Leave of the Republick of Venice, to buy 6000 Bayonets at Breſcia and other Places in their Dominions. Contracts are making by the Apoſtolical Chamber with Undertakers to furniſh Oxen, Horſes and Carriages for the Service of the Train of Artillery and for carrying heavy Baggage. The Remainder of the Sum of 500000 Crowns, Part of the Treaſure left by Sixtus V, appropriated to ſupply the preſent Occaſions of the Holy See, has been this Week taken out of the Caſtle of St. Angelo. The Pope's Galleys are expected at Civita Vecchia from Marſeilles, whence they are to bring ſome more Troops rais'd in the Country of Avignon and a conſiderable Number of Arms. A Courier who was ſent to the Court of France, is return'd with Letters from thence of the 7th Inſtant, but the Contents of them are kept ſecret.

Ferrara, Oct. 20. The 17th Inſtant the Germans attack'd Bondeno, and fir'd upon the Place from two Batteries: The Beſieged return'd their Fire 6 Hours together, from their Artillery. Towards Night the Imperialiſts began their Trenches, and the Garriſon fir'd all Night to hinder them. The 18th in the Morning the Fire of great and ſmall Shot was continu'd on both Sides, but with little Loſs: Of the Beſieged a Knight of Malta a Native of France, Captain of Grenadiers, was kill'd. The ſame Day the Imperialiſts were reinforc'd by 2000 Foot; wherefore Succours with ſome Cannon were ſent from hence thither, to reinforce the Garriſon: But 'tis believ'd the Place will ſoon be loſt for want of neceſſary Stores of Proviſions. Colonel Bentivogli, with a Body of Troops, covers the Poſt of Stellata. Laſt Saturday 500 Germans came in Boats to attack two Houſes in the Valley of Comacchio, which were defended by M. Guerini; but on their Landing, they receiv'd ſuch a Salutation of Small-ſhot from behind the Banks of the Po, that they found it beſt to retire with the Loſs of 10 Men kill'd. On the other Hand, ſome Imperialiſts advancing to Oſtellata on Wedneſday laſt, Captain Buongiovanni retir'd with 200 Soldiers; but two Companies of Militia defended themſelves 3 Hours, and kill'd ſeveral of the Imperialiſts; who yet at laſt carried the Place and burnt it. General Marſigli march'd to relieve our Men, but came too late. Captain Buongiovanni, for not doing his Duty, is committed Priſoner to our Caſtle.

Bologna, Oct. 23. The Marquis de Prie went from hence for Rome, extremely ſatisfied with the great Honours ſhew'd him here. They write from Rome, that ſome Perſons were brought thither from Civita Vecchia, and put under Arreſt, on an Accuſation of having form'd a Conſpiracy to deliver that Harbour into the Hands of the Germans. Men are working here to repair our City-Walls; but there is no further talk of cleanſing the Ditches and adding new Fortifications, as General Marſigli firſt propos'd. Yeſterday came hither from Rome Count Aldrovandi Captain of a Troop of Dragoons in the Regiment of Albani, and will proceed to Morrow to Faenza, there to meet Collonel Don Aleſſandro Albani. Ten Troops of that Regiment, conſiſting of 80 Men each, are arriv'd at Faenza: Whether they will be order'd hither or to Ferrara we cannot yet learn.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Nov. 6.

Genoa, Oct. 21. Two Engliſh Men of War ſail'd from hence laſt Night for Barcelona: They have on board a very conſiderable Sum of Money, and ſeveral Officers, among them General Iſelbach. Stores of certain kinds of Proviſions are bought up here and at Leghorne, for the Ships of War of the Allies which are to winter in the Mediterranean. We have Advice, that the Pope's 4 Galleys, which were lately ſent to Marſeilles, continue there, and wait till 3 Men of War which are hir'd there to take on board 3 Regiments rais'd in the County of Avignon, are ready to ſail with them for Civita Vecchia. The Acts of Hoſtility are continu'd between the two Parties in the Ferrareze; and ſo the War is kindled there by Degrees.

Turin, Oct. 24. The Marſhal de Villars has found it neceſſary at laſt to put his Troops into Winter Quarters, and lay aſide the Enterprize which he gave out he had form'd againſt Exilles. Hereupon the Pruſſian Troops which ſerv'd this laſt Campaign in Piemont, have by Order of our Duke put themſelves on the March to imbark on the Po and follow the Imperialiſts to the Ferrareze.

Venice, Oct. 27. The 16th Inſtant the Count de Boneval march'd out of Comacchio with 350 Men and 6 Cannon to Oſtellata, where 1000 of the Pope's beſt Troops and 1300 Peaſants lay intrench'd. The Count was the firſt Man who leap'd into the Water to attack the intrenchments: The Fight was Obſtinate for an Hour, and many fell on both Sides, but at length the Germans carry'd the Intrenchments. The Count de Boneval was wounded in the Head, Arm, and Side. His Men put all they found in Oſtellata to the Sword, not ſparing the Pariſh Prieſt; and having plunder'd the Church and the Houſes, burnt them to the Ground. The Peaſants being all driven away from the Houſes in the Valley of Comacchio, left behind them a great Number of Arms: Since which the Germans have fetch'd of ſome Cattle from Caſa Pio within 4 Miles off Ferrara. 'Tis thought very ſtrange that General Marſigli cauſes no Line to be thrown up to cover any Part of the Ferrareze.

Berlin, Nov. 3. 'The 31ſt of October his Pruſſian 'Majeſty had Advice by an Expreſs, that General 'Leeuwenhaupt had been intirely defeated by Ge'neral Bauer: And by Letters which came in to 'Day from Lithuania and Pruſſia we have a certain 'Account, in general, That the Action was on the '8th

8th of October, near Lesna, 2 Leagues from Propoysk and 8 Leagues beyond Mohilow. The Muscovites took all the Artillery, Ammunition, and Baggage of the Swedes; whose Infantry were all cut in Pieces or made Prisoners, and of their Horse not above 1500 escap'd. This Blow must needs be of very ill Consequence to the Army under the King of Sweden, because the heavy Artillery, all the Ammunition, Equipage, Cloaths, and other Necessaries, which that Army wanted, and which the King had therefore expressly charg'd General Leeuwenhaupt to bring with him, are fallen into the Hands of the Muscovites: Nor is it easy to see which way his Swedish Majesty, whose Army is much diminish'd and in very ill Plight, can supply such a Loss. We expect this will give a Turn to Affairs as well in Poland as elsewhere. P.S. We have Advice, that the King of Denmark is come into the Country of Holstein.

Hague, Nov. 9 'The Siege of the Citadel of Lisle is carry'd on as expeditiously as the safe Manner of approaching by the Sap will permit. Our last Letters from thence are of the 5th, and tell us an Assault would be made on the first Counterscarp the next Day: After which the Batteries would begin to play on the Bastion of Anjou. These Letters give us Hopes, that the Citadel will be reduc'd within 10 or 12 Days: But that will not put an End to this Campaign; for our Generals seem determin'd not to send the Troops into Quarters, till they have dislodg'd the Enemy from Ghent and Bruges, or at least from Bruges.
